

The Illinois Legislature held a session of five months, which cost the State $250,000. It neither exercised economy nor good sense.

"Me-too" has been heard from. He is quoted as saying, "I think our prospects are more than good, and that we shall both be returned to the Senate."

The devil did a mean piece of business when he stole the liver of heaven, but it was no meaner than the Conkling faction in stealing the name "stalwart."

The Democrats in New York will do all they can to adjourn the Legislature without an election. The Conkling men should not lend them any aid in that direction.

By this time "me-too" Platt is thoroughly convinced in his own mind, that there are no dividends in giving up a United States Senatorship for a place at the end of Conkling's coat-tail.

A woman down in Washington committed perjury to save her husband from the penitentiary. She saved him, but was found out, and now she lies in jail. Excellent motives but bad means.

Governor Cornell says if the Legislature does not elect a Senator in a reasonable time and an adjournment is taken, he will not reconvene the Legislature but let the dispute be settled at the polls.

Mrs. Abraham Lincoln is now on her death-bed. A late dispatch from Springfield, Illinois, says all hopes of her recovery are abandoned. She daily grows weaker, and her attending physicians say she cannot survive many days longer.

Big trees from little acorns grow; but Cui's Baret, of Stafford Vermont, thirty-one years ago in May, stuck a balm-of-gilead splint into the ground which he had been using for a cattle whip. To-day that "sprout" measures 82 feet high, and 3 feet in diameter.

President Garfield no longer rides in a borrowed carriage, drawn by a pair of old Ohio horses. He has got a new carriage of his own—just from New York—and has bought a span of handsome bays from Congressman Updegraff. The President of the United States can now put on as much style as a Congressman, wear as good clothes, ride in as good a carriage, and live as well, even if a Congressman can grow richer on $5,000 a year than a President can on $50,000.

It would have been better had both factions of the Republican party at Albany, agreed to go into a caucus. This would have expedited the business of electing Senators very much. The majority should rule in this case as in all similar cases, no matter which faction succeeds and which goes down to defeat. Had this programme been adopted, and the cool heads of the two factions been allowed to move in the matter, there would have been no dead-lock and no bolting.

To encourage matrimony and to give a newly married couple a handsome start in the world, there has been a mutual aid association formed for unmarried persons. This association agrees to pay from $1,000 to $5,000 at marriage, by paying $6 per thousand, when the policy is taken out. The members may marry at any time they choose, but can not draw the $1,000 or $5,000 until one year from the date of their certificates of membership. Here is an inducement for unmarried persons to launch out on the sea of matrimony. We say as "inducement," it may be an inducement to some, while to others the one or five thousand dollars would not make an impression on the mind. Some have been there, and "The Rip Van Winkle" can be fooled again. But there are many who have not been there, and to these the American Mutual Aid association promises to lend some encouragement. But the woman, who takes a certificate and then marries, thinking to secure matrimonial bliss, and a life, the paths of which will be strewn with the handsomest and sweetest flowers, and December made as pleasant as sunny May, will probably realize by the time she has gray hairs and has reached 60, that it was a dear policy she took out in the American Mutual; and the young man who was seduced by the tempting prize of $5,000 may learn that he did not get value received, and that it was worth more than $5,000 (a year) to listen to certain lectures, do chores, and draw a little carriage through the streets. There is some humor and a good deal of fraud attending this question of matrimonial insurance. It is one of the many ways to gouge the public, and it is very likely that many will be pretty well gouged before their eyes are opened to their folly.

Mr. Conkling's public career has not been one that has been strewn with flowers, by any means. He is one of the few remarkable men in this country. He is brilliant, and as a political leader, has scarcely an equal in the country. But he has the misfortune to possess a violent and vindictive temper. This has led to all the trouble we have in New York to-day. His "temper" has caused him to break with many of the first men in the Republican party with whom he has been associated in Congress. For years he did not speak to Sherman. He hated Seward, and quarreled with Fessenden. He broke with Trumbull and was a mortal enemy of Grimes, of Iowa. He would not hold fellowship with Schurz; and not only got up a quarrel with E. B. Washburne, but would not speak to either of his two brothers. He hated Bristow, and abused Attorney-General Hoar. He had a vicious quarrel with the lamented Zach Chandler, and will not hold any intercourse with John Sherman. He is on terms of enmity with gallant General Hawley, and is an open enemy of Senator George F. Hoar. He treated Bunce with contempt, and will not speak to Senator Ferry, of Michigan. Because Windom voted to confirm Morrill, two years ago Mr. Conkling would not speak to him, and Senator Kirkwood for the same reason was treated in the same way. Of course he quarrelled with Blaine years ago, and the break has not been healed up since. This vindictive temper does much to neutralize his influence among his brother Senators, and is operating against him in the present contest in New York. Had he the genial qualities of a Matt Carpenter, and the sturdy goal nature of a Windom or of a General Hawley, there would hardly be a limit to the influence of Roscoe Conkling in the United States Senate.

THE NEW YORK SENATORSHIP.

At this writing there is not much prospect that Mr. Conkling will be vindicated by the New York Legislature in the course he has taken. He and his friends were evidently mistaken in regard to the number of votes he could command in case he was a candidate for re-election. No doubt they supposed he could resign to spite the administration, and at his beck the Legislature would immediately endorse his action by returning him to the Senate. It is very probable they saw an easy road to vindication, but by this time they begin to realize the fact that the Legislature, as a body, does not endorse all that Mr. Conkling has done. There are very many who admire his courage and independence in resigning, but there are very many who disapprove his course in immediately entering the canvass for re-election. They see that nothing substantial for the party can be gained by such tactics and beside that it will not increase his strength nor widen his popularity.

There are a great many Republicans in New York who are very friendly to Mr. Conkling who do not desire to bolt the administration. They see the importance of adhering to the President in all reasonable things, and not to antagonize a Republican administration. They probably do not endorse the appointment of Judge Robertson, and they certainly do not approve the course Mr. Conkling took in standing for a re-election which would inevitably throw the party in New York into a wrangling confusion. Some of these men are not following Mr. Conkling, and for this reason his re-election is extremely doubtful.

The highest number of votes he has received is 35, while 51 are necessary to a choice. Considering the bitter feeling that has been engendered in the Legislature, it seems impossible that Mr. Conkling can increase his vote to the requisite number for an election. The administration men hold the balance of power provided they hang together. Both sides are determined, and if the contest assumes a bull-dog fight there is no telling when or how it will end. The dead-lock may continue for weeks, or becoming discouraged, the Legislature may adjourn without electing Senators, leaving the whole question to be settled by the people next November. Should this course be pursued, and Mr. Conkling elects a sufficient number of members to make him Senator in spite of the administration, he will prove himself the strongest man in the politics of this country.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE DANITES OF THE SIERRAS. By Joaquin Miller. Chicago: Jansen, McElroy & Co., for sale in Janesville, by J. Sutherland & Son. Price, $1.00.

This little book was first issued in London, some ten years ago, under the title of The First Families of the Sierras. The story was dramatized by Mr. Miller, under the name of The Danites, which has been extensively played by the McKee Rankin and Kittie Blanchard party, both in this country and England. The play became and still remains one of the most popular ever placed upon the boards, and of course is more widely known than the book which gave rise to it. In republishing the volume, Mr. Miller has changed the title to correspond with that of its dramatization; he has, besides, dropped many of the original and coarser character sketches, and revamped it to meet his own and the public's improved tastes. The story is well known, from the stage version of it. Those who may desire to obtain the book and read it in its extended form, will be well rewarded for their pains. There is a genuine pathos and warmth of coloring, in Mr. Miller's pictures of early life in the Sierras, which is peculiarly charming.

A CONVICT'S DEED.

St. Paul, May 31.—A Pioneer Press Special says: This morning, A. A. Weston, sentenced for life, stabbed William Nims, another prisoner, with a pocket knife, and when it was taken from his victim, jabbed the knife into his own throat twice. Both will recover. The assault occurred in the prison hospital, and was evidently premeditated, as Weston left a note for the warden stating what disposal he wished made of his remains. The parties were firm friends, and the cause of the deed is a mystery.

THE CONTEST.

Special to the Gazette.

ALBANY, June 1.—Senator Robertson says the administration men will continue to vote for Cornell, having a perfect understanding with him. At noon Robertson took the chair in joint convention. On the first ballot Conkling had 32, Wheeler, 21, Jacobs, 52, Cornell 11, Rogers, 15.

The first ballot for Platt's successor was, Platt, 29, Kernan 53, Depew, 25, Cornell, 11, Folger, 5, scattering 40. Adjourned till to-morrow. There is yet no letter of declination from Governor Cornell.

CLOSED.

Special to the Gazette.

CINCINNATI, June 1.—All the iron mills are closed on account of 2,000 men striking. It will probably be settled soon.

THE DERBY RACE.

Special to the Gazette.

LONDON, June 1.—The great Derby race was won by Iroquois. Peregrine was 2d, and Moore 3d.

AN EXPLANATION.

G.A. Held Had to Fight—The Reason for Nominating Robertson.

WASHINGTON, D. C. May 31.—The fact which decided the President to nominate Mr. Robertson as collector has at last become known, and it must remove the doubts of a large number of those who have questioned the policy of the President's first step even while supporting him since against the course taken by Mr. Conkling. It appears that it had been determined to appoint Mr. Robertson to some prominent office in New York and this conclusion had been reached before the first batch of nominations for that State were made. Just at this time the President was given to understand in a way which admitted of no mistake, that the late Mr. Conkling would insist upon controlling the custom house appointments whenever a change should be made. As soon as the President became convinced of this, he decided to make a change in the custom-house at once, and have the fight out on the threshold of his administration rather than to have it injected into the middle of his term, as it would have been had he waited till Merritt's term expired.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The result of today's balloting at Albany is waited with much interest by politicians of all shades of opinion here. The administration men are in very jubilant spirits over word telegraphed to them that under no circumstances can Conkling be re-elected, and that he will be withdrawn after today, or a dead-lock ensue. Dispatches have been sent here to ascertain whom the President and his administration would prefer to have chosen, but no reply has been forthcoming, and none is likely to be, as the President, no matter what his preference may be, is not likely to exert any influence in the selection of the two Senators, or even intimate that he would prefer one person over another.

$8,000,000.

The Amount of a Railroad Mortgage Recorded in the Secretary of State's Office.

MADISON, May 31.—The mortgage given by officers of the Chicago, Portage and Lake Superior Railroad company to the Farmers' Loan and Trust company, of New York, was recorded in the Secretary of State's office to-day. The amount is computed on the basis of $20,000 per mile of completed road, and aggregates $8,000,000 on 400 miles, the distance from Chicago, via Portage, to Lake Superior. The company is the one to which was given a valuable land grant of 250,000 acres some years ago, and their further neglect to complete the road according to contract would have forfeited the grant within a few months. The lands are located on a portion of the St. Croix grant, and several efforts were made during the last session of the Legislature to take them from the company and confer them upon some other that would build a land-grant road.

IMMIGRATION.

New York, May 31.—Immigration this month exceeds the figures for the same month last year by 21,000, and the month is larger than for any one month in the history of Castle Garden. The arrivals each month since the first of January are as follows: January 8,082; February 9,738; March 27,708; April 59,748; May 76,812. Total for five months 182,108. For the corresponding period of last year the figures were: January 5,677; February 7,904; March 21,001; April 45,578; May 55,983. Total for five months 136,336.

NEW TRIAL DENIED.

LA CROSSE, May 31.—The motion for a new trial in the Bennett-Hoegle murder case was argued here to-day, and the motion denied. The grounds for the motion were that the judge erred in charging the jury. Bennett was sentenced to imprisonment for life at hard labor. The defense are not satisfied with the proceedings, and will appeal to the supreme court, and hope to have a new trial granted.

A MUSICAL TREAT.

CHICAGO, May 31.—The Tribune editorially says that Theodore Thomas has been here the past few days engaged in important business connected with music during the coming year. As is well known he will give festivals here in 1882. Immediately after those he will give others in New York and Cincinnati using the same soloists. He will not go to Europe himself as he intended, but will send competent representatives to arrange for soloists and other requisite material. The guaranty fund is now secured. During his stay here Mr. Thomas signed contract with Mrs. Carpenter Lessee, of Central Music hall, for 42 concerts in the exposition building commencing July 11. He will have an orchestra of fifty pieces, 25 from New York. Concerts will be on a plan similar to those of 1877, and the programme will be of a popular character. After the close of the series he will give a week's concerts in Milwaukee and close the season probably at Cincinnati.

LUMBERMEN'S LUCK.

EAU CLAIRE, May 31.—A heavy rain for three days and nights has caused the Chippewa and Eau Claire and all their tributaries to boom, and lumbermen are making an extra effort to clear all the streams of logs. The heavy rains have caused no damage, but is of great benefit to lumbermen.

Now for June bugs.
—My kingdom for a horse.—Knight of Pythias.

The tramps seem to have gone to travelling for a living.
—J. V. Huginin is reported as very ill with erysipelas in the head.

Col. R. S. Tuttle, of Chicago, has been spending a day or two in the city.
—Congressman Williams started for East to-day, and will during his absence visit West Point.

The new county board which meets to-day cannot be classed as green lumber. It has too many old and experienced members.

The parishioners and friends of Rev. Dr. Hodge and wife are invited to welcome them at the Baptist church parlors this evening.

One of our funny attorneys in court the other day warned his opponent that he couldn't have a smile at the bar at the expense of another. It was against the anti-treating law.

James Grant was to-day found guilty of assaulting Martin O'Neil, and was fined $5 and costs, his bill reaching about $19. Settled by cash. O'Neil was then tried for assaulting Grant and was fined a like amount.

Dr. Hollister, of Chicago, was called to the city yesterday, to consult with Dr. Palmer concerning John M. McKee's condition, which remains about the same, and with no possible way of determining with any certainty as yet how it will result.

Mr. John Schaefer and wife desire through the Gazette to express their thanks to the many friends who showed in various ways such true sympathy for them in their affliction, and to those who participated in the funeral services of their daughter.

Thomas Welch says he is getting a new 'bus to run from the depot to the Welch hotel. It's a wheelbarrow with one side painted. Some of his customers occasionally need just about such a conveyance, as Pickwick did when he went to watch the other members of the club hunt.

The young sawbones and pill peddlers have decided to play base-ball next Friday afternoon, instead of Monday. The grounds selected are just west of J. H. Kinney's residence, and while the trees will make it shady for the ladies, the game will be made a hot one for the boys on both sides.

Mrs. A. R. Johnson, (wife of a former Janesville tycoon, known among the old settlers as "Zeke" Johnson,) left this afternoon for her home in Kansas City. She was called here to attend the funeral of her father, the late Thomas Lynch. The many friends of "Zeke," who are now here, are pleased to learn that he is doing well, and is prosperous.

The summer running meeting at the Chicago driving park is to be held June 25, 26, 27, 28, and July 2 and 4, and promises to be in all respects the great sporting event of the year in the north-west. For this meeting 252 of the most celebrated race horses in the country are already entered in the stakes and purses offered by the association, the value of which exceeds $18,000.

Miss Minerva Guernsey, after a successful season of work in her eleventh year, has returned for her summer vacation, to her mother's home in this city, where she will be happy to receive her friends. Miss Guernsey is gaining a wide and enviable reputation by her personations, and it is to be hoped that during her stay in the city arrangements may be made by which her many friends here may have the pleasure of hearing her in public.

The new crockery store opened by Greene & Rice in Mitchell's block, on West Milwaukee street, promises to be one of the most popular and successful business places in the city. The stock which they have opened up is all new, and includes not only the standard goods in that line, but a bewildering array of fancy ware and novelties, together with a variety of furnishing goods. The stock is certainly a fine one, and the young men who are proprietors of the establishment are enterprising and accommodating.

The funeral services of Miss Augusta Schickler were held yesterday afternoon at the family residence and were very largely attended by friends, among whom was manifested a genuine feeling of sorrow at the death of so estimable a young lady, and sympathy for the immediate relatives upon whom such a deep shadow has fallen. Rev. W. F. Brown officiated and made some very tender and appropriate remarks. A quartet consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kinney, Mrs. Edward Bager and Mr. W. L. Cooks rendered sweet music. Many friends joined in following the remains to Oak Hill cemetery where they were laid at rest.

MERELY MATED.
FATHERS-SCOTFIELD.
Trinity Episcopal church was the scene this forenoon of a wedding, the announcement of which will surprise many, as the arrangements were kept very quiet, but which will call forth many and hearty expressions of well wishes and congratulations. The contracting parties were James A. Fathers, and Miss Emma A. Scotfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Scotfield. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. T. W. MacLean, and was witnessed by the immediate relatives and a few friends. Miss Nellie Fathers acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Will Scotfield as groomsmen, and at the close of the service, the wedding party proceeded to the residence of J. Maurice Smith, whose wife is a sister of the bride, and there ample refreshments were served in a tempting manner, and were partaken of with keen enjoyment by a small company of relatives and intimate friends. This reception was an informal and happy one, congratulations and well wishes were freely and sincerely given, and some substantial expressions of good will were bestowed in the form of some elegant presents to the young couple. The newly married ones left on the afternoon train for a short trip, and on their return will make their home in Mrs. Addy's house in the First ward.

Mr. Fathers is recognized by all as one of Janesville's most sterling and stirring young men. He has lived here for years and has by his many many qualities won scores of true friends, who rejoice heartily with him in his rejoicing, and the beautiful bride whom he has thus taken has no less friends and is no less highly esteemed. If well wishes depend on the number and honesty of expression for their fulfillment, the young couple will find their wedded life a long and happy one.

SURPRISE AND RE-MARRIED.
Last Saturday evening there was a very happy surprise perpetrated on Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith, at Evansville, in the nature of a china wedding. The friends planned it so slyly that the worthy couple got no inkling of what was to occur, until the company came marching into their beautiful home, and taking possession of it, spread a bountiful feast, and loaded down one table with appropriate gifts, including a full set of gold-banded china, decorated fruit plates, cake basket, silver vase, and various other articles both valuable and useful. Mr. and Mrs. Smith consented to have another knot tied in the bond matrimonial, which has kept them so closely together for over a score of years, and Rev. Henry Faville performed this ceremony in the happiest kind of a way, making the bridegroom promise to keep the wood-bowl filled, and the bride to keep all the buttons sewed on to his clothes. After they had made these and similar practical promises, he pronounced them of age, and presented them with the tokens of esteem of friends and relatives. Mr. Smith made a happy little speech of thanks, which was seconded by his wife in a few remarks no less apt and taking, and then the company gathered about the marriage feast, and enjoyed the good things there provided. It was indeed a happy occasion, and one long to be remembered by all who participated. One of the little incidents of special interest was a presentation to Mrs. Eager, a sister of Mrs. Smith, and the chief of those who planned the surprise. It consisted of a fine pair of gold-bowed glasses, the gift of her husband. These sisters are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boyce of this city, and with their husbands and children form no small element in the enjoyability of Evansville society, and about them cluster a large circle of friends, who always find delight in partaking of their well known hospitality. These friends gladly joined in planning this surprise on Mr. and Mrs. Smith, and all were gratified at its successful execution.

A FAST DEACON.
A Fourth ward young man has a very fast steed, which he takes great pride in, and delights to speed the stepper along Main street, racing with other flyers. The horse has been so ridden that the more tightly the reins are drawn the faster his legs will skip over the earth. Said young man was out of town last Sunday and his father, an elderly and dignified man, noted for his worthiness of character and his stalwartness as a church deacon, thought he would take his son's horse out for a little drive in the afternoon. He had never driven that steed and knew nothing of its peculiarities, but he soon found out about them. As he turned into Main street, the steed supposed that business was meant, and there being no Sunday in the horse's calendar, he started into the briskest kind of a gallop. The good deacon pulled on the reins, and the horse taking the usual hint increased his speed. The deacon pulled, the horse flew. Those who had known the good man for years saw him racing down Main street, and wondered greatly at his speeding horses on Sunday. Worse yet, he met his pastor at the head of a funeral procession, but there was no stay, no whoa. It was a bad go. There was no time for explanations, and he could only pull on the reins, and fly over the ground. The steed slackened up at the foot of the street long enough to turn around, and then streaked it back again at a like lively rate. The deacon steered him finally into Milwaukee street, and then by taking side streets got him back to the stable. The son can now leave town on Sunday with the assurance that his fast flyer will not be exercised until his return, and the deacon doesn't pass the plate in church any more.

THE WEATHER.
REPORTED BY FARRISTEE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.
The thermometer at 6 o'clock last night stood at 71 degrees above; at 1 o'clock A. M. to-day at 64 degrees above; at 7 o'clock A. M. at 64 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock P. M. at 76 degrees above. Partly cloudy.

ELEGANT ESTABLISHMENT.
E. B. Heimstreet Opens His New and Modern Drug Store and Art Emporium.
This morning E. B. Heimstreet the well known druggist, threw open to public his new store, known as No. 45 North Main street, being next to his old stand. Scores of sight-seers besides customers thronged the store to-day, and the beauty of the place warrants fully the high praise heard on all sides. It certainly is a model establishment, and is worthy of more than a passing notice. The main store is 22x75 feet and is elegantly finished throughout in black and French walnut, with wall and show cases, and all the details are in keeping. The stock is displayed in a very attractive manner, and there are various adornments, birds, statuettes, pictures, etc., which give to the whole a charming effect. In the center of the store is a large aquarium and fountain, with a constant flow of water, and well supplied with fish.

In the rear of the main store, and on the left side is an elegantly furnished private office and a trunk room, it being the only store in Southern Wisconsin thus provided with a separate trunk department, which will be a great convenience to customers in that line. In the other corner at the rear of the store is a prescription room, ten by eighteen feet, a great improvement over the usual case. There is also at the rear a large paint and oil room, conveniently arranged, and heavily stocked. Sliding doors with large glass panels, open into the rooms, combining beauty with convenience.

From the main floor a neatly finished stairway leads to the second floor, which is devoted to art goods. This room is finished to correspond with the main floor, and here are to be found all the materials which an artist can possibly need, and the goods are arranged make a pleasing display. Here are to be found oil paintings, and a fine line of statuary for sale. The room is provided with easy chairs, and the various art journals of the day, so that ladies who choose can take their ease, read, look at pictures, wait for lady friends to meet them, in fact it is intended as a headquarters for art-lovers. In this room there are on exhibition this week only, the following paintings:

1. Melrose Abbey, by Mrs. S. S. Judd.
2. Portrait of a Gentleman, by Mrs. E. H. Cook.
3. Dog's Head, by Mrs. S. S. Judd.
4. Interior, by Mrs. S. S. Judd.
5. The Old Mill, by Mrs. S. S. Judd.
6. Group of Children, by Mrs. Nettie Campbell.
7. Landscape, by Mrs. M. H. Hughes.
8. Landscape, by Mrs. M. H. Hughes.
9. Landscape, by Mrs. M. H. Hughes.
10. Landscape, by Mrs. M. H. Hughes.
11. Landscape, by Mrs. M. H. Hughes.
12. Landscape, by Mrs. M. H. Hughes.
13. Landscape, by Mrs. M. H. Hughes.
14. Landscape, by Mrs. M. H. Hughes.
15. Landscape, by Mrs. M. H. Hughes.
16. Landscape, by Mrs. M. H. Hughes.

Others are bringing in pictures this afternoon, so that the exhibition will be much larger by to-morrow.

On the third floor the front room is fitted up very nicely as an art studio for Mrs. J. F. Hart, where are exhibited a large number of the works of that skillful lady's brush. One finds here plenty to study and admire, and the ladies will take great pleasure in calling upon her in her studio.

The establishment throughout is one of the most complete and elegant to be found in this State, and is certainly a credit to the city, as well to the enterprising proprietor who has won such a strong hold on the trade as well as the friendship of Janesville and Rock county people.

In the fitting up of the establishment credit should be given William Colling for the excellent manner in which he has done the carpentering, to Rogers & Hutchinson for the tasty and skillful painting, and to George T. Trichard for the beauty and convenience of the gas-fixture.

THE NEW BOARD.
The County Supervisors Meet and Organize by the Election of J. C. Metcalf Chairman.
The new Board of Supervisors met in special session this afternoon, being called to order by Mr. James Menzies, chairman of the late board. All the members were present except Mr. Huginin, of La Prairie, for whom James Scott acted as substitute.

Mr. J. C. Metcalf was unanimously elected chairman.

On motion of Mr. Keeler the rules governing the previous board were adopted, and being thus organized the board proceeded with the usual business.

THE GRUMBLERS' CORNER.
There are a few things which are permanently laid corner-stones on which grumblers are always building up complaints, and in order to avoid a vain repetition of words, the following howls are given, from which each can select the one that suits him best, cut it out, frame it, paste it on the wall, put it in some permanent shape, so that as occasion demands, words can be saved and feelings can have vent by simply pointing to it, with "them's my sentiments!"

Confound the cow—Yard-owner.
Confound the ordinance—Cow-owner.

Why can't folk drive slow, and let a fellow get across the street without risking his neck?—Foot-man.

Why don't folk have a little sense and keep on the sidewalks, where they belong, and look once in a while where they're going?—Horse-man.

That's just our luck. Why couldn't it have rained to-morrow or next day, just as well as to spoil all our fun now.—Pick-nicker.

It does seem as if everything went against the crops. Why can't it rain?—Farmer.

Why in the world can't the city afford a tin cup for the town pump?—Thirsty-one.

It does beat all that we can't put a cup at the pump without it being stolen.—Official.

The postoffice clerks are slower than a broken down hearse.—Outsider.

Can't they wait a minute for the mail?—Insider.

If people would only go to church more, there would be some chance of saving the world.—Pulpit.

If preachers would only get up something worth hearing we'd go to church more.—Pew.

A man ought to pay when he says he will.—Creditor.

He needn't be so mighty afraid of not getting his money.—Debtor.

They seem to think a man can sell meat for nothing.—Butcher.

Is this steak pegged or sewed?—Cust-omer.

Am I lonely to night love without you?—Single Man.

Trouble never comes single.—Double Man.

Men are deceitful.—She.

They all flirt.—He.

In extreme cases some of the foregoing may need to be emphasized, and those so desiring can use the following, which can be inserted to suit the user, and the occasion—!!! and —!!!
